Does Your Courseware Compare?

When choosing a partner for your initial credit, alternative school, or credit recovery needs, there's a lot to consider. How can they support my educators and students? Can they provide courses aligned to my state's needs? Do they have a large enough catalog to offer robust options? Have they been vetted by third parties and do their courses actually help students learn and succeed? Do they have efficacy research to prove their claims?

At Imagine Learning, we know how crucial partnerships are for our K12 customers. We have research-based, proven solutions, and we back them up with the best customer success, professional learning, and support teams in the industry. When you choose Imagine Edgenuity and EdgeEX, you're not just getting software, you're getting peace of mind – because we will be with you every step of the way, as a dedicated partner in your success.
