To Whom It May Concern:

Imagine Edgenuity is committed to helping districts with their efforts to minimize student cheating. Unique challenges are presented when students use devices to complete some or all of their learning. Fortunately, technology also affords educators and administrators the ability to set up automatic alerts, checks, and systems so students complete their assigned schoolwork honestly.

Our programs contain settings that make it harder to cheat undetected. For example, the Teacher Review setting can be used to partner with parents and guardians to proctor assessments at home. The IP registry configuration can be used to block students from taking assessments outside of the school network. Using the SecureLock browser experience prevents students from accessing third-party websites while logged into Imagine Edgenuity. Our Plagiarism Checker automatically scans final student submissions looking for matches across the internet. When a match is found, the submission is flagged for the teacher, with a percent match and a link to download the detailed report. And our Speed Radar flags students' activity log where they are progressing faster than normally expected.

Additionally, we are aware that students have posted answers to Imagine Edgenuity assessment questions online; because of this, we partner with a company that finds and completes regular take-down requests of Imagine Edgenuity content posted on the internet. We send removal requests for the URLs that we see or are reported to contain Imagine Edgenuity answers regularly, and they generally pull them down within 48 hours. However, we can't always find them all. If you find any URLs with Imagine Edgenuity answers, please send the links (not screenshots) to Edgenuity's Customer Support at support@imaginelearning.com or through the link in our system, and we will be happy to have them remove our content.

Additionally, you can visit http://www.edgenuity.com/academic-integrity-in-online-learning/ for ideas and suggestions for your district's implementation. An additional step districts can take is to block Quizlet.com, Brainly.com, or other "answer sites" on their school's or district's network. None of these sites are needed to complete any Imagine Edgenuity coursework.
We believe our commitment to helping reduce cheating in conjunction with strong classroom culture and expectations around academic integrity creates a strong learning environment. Should you be interested in a further conversation or webinar around best practices in academic integrity, please don't hesitate to reach out to your local Imagine Edgenuity representative.
